2021 National Team Trials

New for 2021

• The 2021 National Team Trials is a new event for USA Climbing and will select Team USA to compete on the international World Cup circuit. This event will be hotly contested as the best climbers in the US compete for a handful of coveted National Team spots.

As one of USA Climbing’s premier events, the host of this event will:

• Benefit from climbing’s pre-Olympic Games momentum.
• Welcome more than 100 of the nation’s best climbers along with family, friends and spectators from across the US to their local community.
• Enjoy broadcast and/or livestream that will showcase the facility and city to hundreds of thousands of climbing fans.
• Receive coverage in endemic climbing media.

Event Dates and Time Frame:

• Early March 2021 (subject to change)
• USA Climbing anticipates 3 days of competition.
• USA Climbing requests full and uninterrupted access to all event spaces (to be negotiated between host facility and USA Climbing) for the duration of set-up, competition, and tear down.
• Days needed for event set-up and tear-down are dependent upon the proposed venue arrangements. More specifically, if USA Climbing will need to construct climbing walls for the event, additional days will be needed for construction and related tear-down.
HOST FEE, REGISTRATION AND TICKETING

HOST FEE:

• In consideration of the use of the Host Facility, certain incurred expenses, and other related services, USA Climbing agrees to compensate Host Facility with a “Host Fee” which will be determined in negotiation of the Host Agreement.

EVENT REGISTRATION:

• Registration will be managed by USA Climbing proprietary online registration portal.
• All registration and membership fees associated with this event will be retained by USA Climbing.

TICKETING:

• USA Climbing and Host Facility will mutually determine appropriate ticket pricing strategy and will negotiate the specifics of the revenue share.
• Spectator expectations are a function of venue capacity and joint-marketing efforts.

MARKETING:

• USA Climbing and Host Facility will build an integrated event marketing and communications plan. Host Facility should provide a dedicated marketing / communications contact to work with USA Climbing.
• USA Climbing shall be responsible for arranging national media coverage while Host Facility shall be responsible for arranging local media coverage.
• Host Facility will be included on USA Climbing website, social media and event marketing materials.
• USA Climbing grants Host Facility the right to promote the Competition; and Host Facility will include the USA Climbing event logo on all marketing including website, email, social media, print, signage, etc.
Broadcast / Livestream

The event will be distributed to fans via linear broadcast and/or livestream.

USA Climbing will:
- Source and provide the production company.
- Include facility name or logo in intro and outro of the broadcast.
- Make best efforts to provide commercial inventory for Host advertising at no cost.
- Plan, manage and incur all expense surrounding the rental and installation of stage-quality lighting and sound equipment related to the production.

Host Facility to provide:
- Dedicated ethernet port performing at 50Mbps up / 50Mbps down, reverification of speed testing to occur no later than one month before event date.
- Necessary power to run stage lighting and sound (existing or sourced generator).
- Two separate discrete services, one 200a 3phase for broadcast truck and the second, 100a 3phase for audio and lighting.
- Dedicated hard line telephone available for a high definition production truck.
- Twelve designated standard parking spaces within 100’ of Host Facility for production truck.

Other considerations:
- USA Climbing to own all rights to event media gathered by USA Climbing partners and may share with Host Facility for the purposes of Host Facility promotion.
Sponsorship, Vendors and Merchandise

Sponsorship:
• USA Climbing retains full and exclusive control of branding within the “Field of Play”.
• The Field of Play will be defined in coordination with the Host Facility and approved by USA Climbing based on the characteristics of each host facility.
• The following page lists current USA Climbing national sponsors and protected categories. This list could change at any time and USA Climbing will work with the host to communicate any changes. These categories are considered exclusive for the entire event including related ancillary events.
• Host Facility may solicit non-conflicting, local event sponsorships with prior approval from USA Climbing. Host and USA Climbing will mutually-agree to local event sponsorship revenue share.

Vendors:
• Host Facility that possesses space, ability, and willingness to host a “Vendor Village” or “Expo” space, which includes sponsor booths and screen / projector for broadcast / livestream viewing, will be preferred.

Merchandise:
• USA Climbing or Team IP, USA Climbing’s merchandise partner, will manage and retain all revenue associated with sales of USA Climbing and event merchandise.
• Host facility to provide prominent, high traffic space on-site.
• If USA Climbing does not manage sales for this event, Host Facility, with guidance from USA Climbing, will manage the sale of event related merchandise with revenue share to be negotiated.
