

Routesetting Committee Bio – BRET JOHNSTON

Bio:

Bret Johnston has been setting for twelve years starting at the age of fourteen. Since 2010 he has worked his way through the ranks of the USA Climbing Routesetting Program, setting over a dozen National and International events to become the youngest setter with Level 5 Certification. He currently serves Planet Granite as its Director of Setting and is devoted to making PG the most sought after setting program in the country.

Bret's competition setting career was sparked by being a former competitor himself. The joy he gets from setting the bigger events and providing a new level of climbing for setters year after year is a huge inspiration to continue setting competitions. With many goals accomplished, he is now focusing on enhancing the professionalism of the everyday setter, and is truly passionate about making a strong career out of setting
